

National Health Insurance Plan

Be Sure To Report When There is Any Change in your Qualification under the Health Insurance

The qualification under National Health Insurance (NHI) Plan will not be automatically changed.

Those who are applicable to the following cases are requested to report to the City Hall as soon as possible.

- Those who have got a job with a firm

When you as an insured member of NHI Plan joined other health insurance plan (such as the one provided by the workplace), you are required to report it to the City Hall. If not reported, the insurance premium will be charged and its statement of payment will be sent to you until it is done. When you report the above matter, you need to present both Health Insurance Certificates issued under NHI Plan as well as the one issued under the workplace insurance plan (or any documents which verifies that you have joined the workplace health insurance plan, if the workplace health insurance certificate is not issued yet) at the Insurance Section or branch office.

- Those who have left their firm

When you have withdrawn from the workplace health insurance plan and are not covered by any other health insurance plan, you need to report and apply for joining the NHI plan. For your application, you are required to present a certificate of disqualification under the workplace health insurance plan as well as any ID paper (driver's license or others) at the Insurance Section or branch office. But you don't need to do this procedure if you are applicable to the following cases:

(1) those who are still the insured members under the health insurance plan of previous workplace, (2) those who are eligible under the Late-stage Medical Care System for the Elderly, (3) those who are receiving public welfare benefits.
